

Brew View named to list of top picks for travelers

Mar 4, 2005

The Quad-Cities Brew & View in The District of Rock Island has been selected by Travelocity as one of the top 10 "local favorites" in Illinois.

The popular Web site recently compiled its annual "Local Secrets, Big Finds" list after querying members. The list includes 510 spots -- 10 picks per state, plus 10 for Washington, D.C.

For complete results of this year's poll, log onto www.travelocity.com after March 14.

The online guide identifies places or events frequented by locals but often overlooked by tourists. "The list is by travelers for travelers," said Amy Ziff, Travelocity editor at large, in a press release.

"Both locals and visitors can use the list to find wonders near where they live or go in search of unique places when they find themselves on the road," according to the release.
